Who We Are

Houston Arts Alliance (HAA) is a local arts and culture organization whose principal work is to implement the City of Houston's vision, values, and goals for its arts grantmaking and civic art investments. HAA's work is conducted through contracts with the City of Houston, overseen by the Mayor's Office of Cultural Affairs. HAA also executes privately funded special projects to meet the needs of the arts community, such as disaster preparation, research on the state of the arts in Houston, and temporary public arts projects that energize neighborhoods.

In short, HAA helps artists and arts nonprofits be bold, productive, and strong.

Letter From the Organization

To the community we serve,

The 2023 year included a host of organizationally defining moments. This year, we witnessed a remarkable increase in grant and Civic Art project applications, a testament to both successful outreach efforts and the growing vitality of Houston's arts scene. By streamlining the application process and enhancing awareness through targeted communications, we expanded access to funding and opportunities for artists and organizations. This surge in applications led to a more diverse array of funded projects, strengthening Houston's arts ecosystem and fostering a more inclusive creative community.

This letter highlights some of the key achievements we believe defined the year at HAA. We are excited to build on this momentum, furthering our commitment to supporting you—the artists, organizations, and creative voices that make Houston's arts scene thrive.

CIVIC ART

The division expanded and streamlined external communications about Civic Art competitions. The team effectively promoted opportunities through various channels, including online art communities, social media, and the HAA website and newsletter. This expansion resulted in increased visibility and participation in Civic Art projects. Simultaneously, the division standardized and enhanced the transparency of the competition process. The improved facilitation of panel meetings and moderation processes led to more efficient artist selection and adherence to project goals and rubrics.

Moreover, the focus on diversity and representation within the collection resulted in more significant opportunities for first-time public artists, a measure of success that aligns with the City's aims regarding collection representation. HAA offered Spanish translations of materials and assistance with written and verbal correspondence for artists in need of those services. In 2023, the Civic Art team provided orientation and mock interviews to all those selected by panels to create commission proposals. These new steps provided first-time applicants, many of whom are BIPOC artists (due to the historical marginalization and exclusion of BIPOC artists from public art competitions), with clarity on how to better compete for Houston public art commissions.

In 2023, HAA's Civic Art division managed a total of 48 projects on behalf of the Mayor's Office of Cultural Affairs: 15 new Civic Art projects alongside 33 projects still in progress. Projects included newly commissioned and acquired artworks, conservation of existing objects, and various collection management projects for the Civic Art collection. Featured projects can be viewed online at the Civic Art webpage.

In 2023, HAA distributed $2,785,732 in Civic Art funds to artists, conservators, and vendors for their work on new art acquisitions, conservation efforts, and collection management projects. Further details on these projects are provided later in this report.

The Civic Art team's accomplishments reflect the City's and HAA's unwavering commitment to excellence and innovation. We are dedicated to continuing our efforts to enrich the cultural landscape of our city and strengthen community engagement through Civic Art initiatives.

GRANTS

HAA's grantmaking took a huge step forward in 2023. The grants cycle is a full, one-year-long process that begins with strategic planning and is informed and sharpened by data and the arts community's feedback. The grantmaking cycle is anchored by a thorough annual evaluation of both the grant programs and the Grants division itself. Every January, the division gathers data from the previous year to evaluate the effectiveness of HAA's grantmaking practices. This analysis culminates in a detailed evaluation that identifies and prioritizes improvements. The finalized evaluation report is then reviewed and approved by the Grants Committee of the HAA Board and subsequently submitted to the Mayor's Office of Cultural Affairs (MOCA), which oversees HAA's two City arts support contracts. Implementations from the report commence in February, adhering to specific timelines for each recommended action.

In 2023, HAA initiated the inaugural Grants Working Groups (GWG), significantly reshaping the Annual Grants Evaluation process. These groups, composed of community arts leaders, managers, artists, and creatives, critically assessed every aspect of the grantmaking process—from marketing and application materials to panel adjudication and final reporting. The GWG included three distinct cohorts: organizational leaders, individual artists and creatives, and a BIPOC-centered group representing both individual artists and organizations. Importantly, the groups also included perspectives from those who had never applied for grants, ensuring a comprehensive range of insights that would challenge the design of HAA grant programs. The feedback gathered during these sessions became the foundation framing for the 2024 Annual Grants Evaluation—co-written with the arts community itself for the very first time.

Additionally in 2023, MOCA approved a new boosted funding formula for our annual grants competitions: Support for Organizations (SO), Support for Artists and Creative Individuals (SACI), and Festival Grants (FG). This formula change provides support to organizations, artists, and creatives who have been awarded through the same peer panel process but have historically been marginalized from opportunities, such as grants. The boost is specifically designed for applicants who meet BIPOC qualification criteria for their respective grant programs and have been awarded funding through HAA's peer community-based panels. Awardees under this initiative receive a 45 percent increase in their awards (with a cap of $20,000). At the end of 2023, to cover the grant term of calendar year 2024, MOCA allocated an additional one-time $800,000 to the grants programs to accommodate this formula change.

Fundamental information about HAA grant programs is published every year in a transparent, publicly accessible dashboard that shows who applied for and received grants, describes how the competitive process works, and identifies the decision-making panelists. Demographic information about gender self-identity, race and ethnic self-identity, art forms represented, and other information is also provided, along with details about grant recipients and amounts.

- 2023 Grants Dashboard (PDF download)

This dashboard provides information for grants that were adjudicated in 2022 and funding projects in calendar year 2023. A small number of grants outlined in this dashboard included grant terms that started in 2022. Additional dashboards from prior years are also available online at the Grants webpage.

COMMUNICATIONS

In 2023, HAA underwent a comprehensive rebranding initiative, unveiling a new logo, color palette, and messaging that better reflects our mission and values. The new brand emphasizes inclusivity, innovation, and the dynamic nature of Houston's cultural landscape, resonating more effectively with our diverse audiences. The rebranding was well-received by stakeholders, including artists, cultural organizations, and the public, helping to strengthen our identity and presence in the community.

Aligned with our rebrand, the new HAA website features a modern design and user-friendly navigation, making it easier for visitors to find information about our programs, events, and opportunities. The website is optimized for mobile devices, ensuring that users can access our resources and stay connected with the arts community while on the go. The site includes enhanced features, such as the Houston Cultural Events Calendar, comprehensive grant application guidelines, profiles of Civic Art projects, and other valuable resources to artists, organizations, and the public.

The Houston Cultural Events Calendar is designed to be the go-to source for all arts and cultural events happening in the city. The calendar features an intuitive, easy-to-navigate interface that allows residents and visitors to quickly find events that interest them, from gallery openings and theater performances to community festivals and workshops.

Additionally, our social media channels now include Spanish translations to serve Houston's largest non-English-speaking group.

DISASTER SERVICES

In 2023, HAA's Disaster Resilience division remained a strong advocate for integrating the arts community into disaster response and recovery efforts. By collaborating with disaster decision-makers, arts organizations, and donors, HAA is working to enhance regional disaster response systems to support the arts sector more effectively. These efforts aim to build a more resilient arts ecosystem, ensuring the community is better prepared for future disasters.

BIPOC Arts Network Fund

The BIPOC Arts Network & Fund (BANF) is a multi-year initiative dedicated to providing resources that support the vibrant BIPOC arts community of Greater Houston in fully displaying its power, values and traditions. Established in 2021 as a collaborative community effort, BANF is staffed with its own Project Director and guided by a Steering Committee and an Accountability and Advisory Council and has engaged the Houston Arts Alliance as an operational partner. In 2023, BANF awarded $4,450,000 in grants from privately raised funds.

We invite you to explore our website for a deeper look into HAA's impact, including our financial overview, key supporters, and the many initiatives that drive our mission forward. Your dedication and partnership fuel the vibrancy of Houston's arts community, and we are grateful for your continued support. Together, we will keep championing a bold, thriving, and inclusive cultural landscape for our city.

Thank you for all you do to support the arts in Houston.

Taylor Jackson
